

Make dinner for the family. Find a recipe, gather and measure out ingredients, and make something delicious.

Go for a walk after dark and identify constellations.

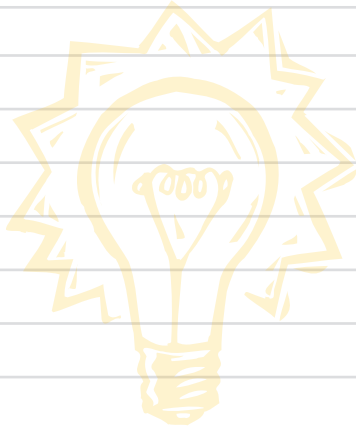

Find a recipe online for homemade ice cream and make some for your family

Make your own comic book or cartoon flip book.

Do some research online for a new family activity in your area. Find out hours, costs and any other important details, and plan a family activity day.

Take a virtual tour of the seven wonders of the world — go online and see what you can learn about each.

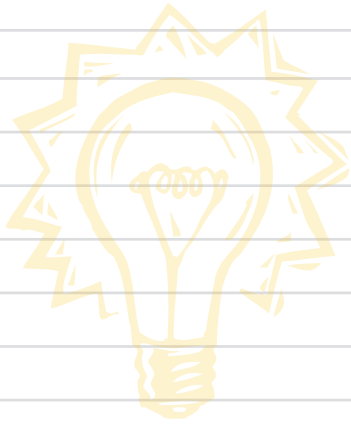

Build a variety of paper airplanes and see which ones are the fastest. Record your results; then take what you've learned and see if you can build something faster.

Start a book club with your friends.

Invent your own board game. Come up with a concept, write the rules, design the board, build and play!

Go to the library and find a new author you have never read before.

Volunteer. Go online and find volunteer opportunities in your area. Do it once, or do it often — it's important to help others.

Write a letter to an out-of-state friend or relative, and ask them to write back.

Plant a garden. Find out what grows best in your area and watch it grow!

Write a play and put it on your family and friends.

Help with a house project. Ask your mom or dad if there is a project around the house you can help with, such as cleaning the garage, painting the fence or organizing the file cabinet.

Using a deck of cards, turn over two cards and add or multiply them in your head. Repeat for the whole deck.

